Jack was lying in his bed. He couldn't sleep and he was staring at a patch of light on his ceiling. All of a sudden he heard a noise. He listened carefully. There it was again! He slipped out of his bed, put on his dressing gown and tiptoed towards the hallway. The noise was coming from the cupboard on the landing. He slowly edged closer and closer to the door. Taking a deep breath he reached for the door handle. He pulled the door open and...

Ginger jumped out.

"Silly cat, fancy getting stuck in there," said Jack.

Jack went back to his room. As he went in he was standing on a football pitch.

"What? I don't understand?"

thought Jack.

Suddenly the football was passed to Jack. The crowd started Cheering his Name. Jack started dribbling around the other team until he had only the goalie to beat. He chipped the ball over the goalie and into the net.

"Goal!" cheered the crowd, and started to call his name. "Jack Jack Jack... wake up, you're late for school!"

Jack opened his eyes and saw his Mum.

"It was just a dream" thought Jack.

He got out of bed and tripped over a football. "Maybe it wasn't a dream" thought Jack.
